Schedule

What did you do to keep your sprint on the schedule?
-   All of us were using JIRA to know what each person was up to.
-   This helped us stay on task, and whenever someone needed any help, we were there to help.
-   Anyone we knew there was a big critical path which could be used by other files, we made sure to focus, and while one member was working on critical files, others were building a Mockup to attach to the main dependency.
-   Because of consistency, communication and hard work, we finished all of the sprint3 assigned tasks.
